Animal Tracking Hike

Saturday, January 17, 2009 at 1:00pm
Long Sault Conservation Area, Clarington

The public is invited to take a walk on the wild side at Long Sault Conservation Area in Clarington on Saturday, January 17, 2009 starting at 1:00pm. Central Lake Ontario Conservation staff will lead a hike through the beautiful forest of Long Sault looking at all of the wonders of winter and participants will learn how to interpret and recognize various animal tracks. This event is FREE and will last for 2 hours. Registration is required.

“This is everyone’s chance to get up close and personal to discover a variety of tracks left behind on and off the trails at Long Sault Conservation Area,” states Patricia Lowe, Director of Community Outreach and Education with Central Lake Ontario Conservation. “Fun for the whole family, our experienced guides will provide you with the guidance and equipment to identify the not so sleepy wildlife in this part of the Oak Ridges Moraine.”

To register for the animal tracking hike or for more information please contact Cathy Grant, Education Instructor, at the Conservation Administration Office 905-579-0411, ext 108 or email cgrant@cloca.com. All registrations must be received by January 15, 2009 – Space is Limited. In case of poor weather, please call the above number for notice of cancellation. Directions to and more information on Long Sault Conservation Area are available at www.cloca.com.
